Background:

The Priority Habitats and Species (PHS) Program is a key resource by which WDFW provides important fish, wildlife, and habitat information to our land use planning partners (local governments, state and federal agencies, private landowners, tribal biologists, and consultants). Katie Knight is the PHS Program manager and will provide an overview of the program tools and how they are used to make land management decisions that protect fish, wildlife and their habitats in Washington state. The presentation will also include an overview of PHS on the Web, a new on-line interactive map displaying PHS data.
