Executive Summary

A total of 206 bass fishing contests sponsored by 44 bass clubs or other organizations were held in 2013. The bass contests were held on 50 different bodies of water with the majority of the contests being held on the Columbia River system. A total of 16,137 bass were caught (largemouth and smallmouth bass). The average weight per bass was 2.15 pounds. The largest largemouth bass caught was 8.48 pounds and the largest smallmouth bass caught was 6.13 pounds. The overall catch rate was 0.23 fish per hour and 98% of the bass caught were reported as having been released alive. The total value of prizes awarded was estimated at $388,696.

A total of seven walleye fishing contests were held in 2013 and were sponsored by seven walleye clubs or other organizations. The contests were held on five different bodies of water. A total of 2,035 walleye were caught. The average weight per walleye was 1.74 pounds. The largest walleye caught was 12.62 pounds. The overall catch rate was 0.20 fish per hour and 98% of the walleye caught were reported as having been released alive. The total value of prizes awarded was estimated at $126,785.

Contest Activity

Bass Contests

A total of 212 permits were issued for bass fishing contests in 2013. However, the number of contests held was less than the number of permits issued. This was due to contests being withdrawn rather than rescheduled or canceled. Thus, the actual number of contests held in Washington State during 2013 was 206 (Table 1). This was an increase of five contests from the previous year (201 contests). The average number of bass contests held in Washington during the previous four years (2010-2013) was 193 per year. For the previous ten years (2000-2009), the average was 176 contests per year. For the ten years (1990-1999) preceding this, the average was 144 contests per year, and for first ten years of fishing contest data reporting (1980-1989), the average was 74 contests per year. The number of contests per year for the entire 34-year period was 139. We did not receive final reports for twelve contests.

Walleye Contests

A total of seven walleye clubs or other organizations sponsored at least one walleye contest in 2013. The clubs or organizations (their abbreviation) and the number of contests they sponsored were: GEM Enterprises (GE), one contest; Central Washington Fish Advisory Committee (CWFAC), one contest; Casey McKern's Balls and Chains Walleye Tournament (KELLYC), one contest; The Meseberg Family (TMF), one contest; Lake Roosevelt Walleye Club (LRWC), one contest; Spokane Walleye Club (SWC), one contest; and Walleye Anglers Unlimited (WAL), one contest.

Location

Bass Contests

Bass fishing contests were held on 52 different bodies of water in 2013, down one from a total of 52 in 2012 (Figure 1). Since 1990, the smallest number of bodies of water to hold contests was 30, in 1990. The greatest number of bodies of water to hold a contest was 52, which has occurred three times (1996, 2012, and 2013). The average number of different bodies of water per year to hold contests is 40. The water bodies with the greatest number of contests (≥ 10) were: The Columbia River (37), Riffe Lake (19), Banks Lake (18), Potholes Reservoir (16), and Lake Washington (16) (Table 4a). Since 1990, Banks Lake and Potholes Reservoir have been the two most popular bodies of water to hold fishing contests (Table 4b and Table 4c). They have averaged about 18 and 15 contests per year, respectively. Please refer to Appendixes 1 and 2 for a complete summary of all bass fishing contest activities in 2013.

Walleye Contests

Walleye contests were held on five different bodies of water in 2013. Banks Lake, Moses Lake, Potholes Reservoir, and Lake Wallula each held one contest. Lake Roosevelt held three contests. Please refer to the Appendix 3 for a complete summary of all walleye fishing contest activities in 2013.

Timing

Bass Contests

At least one bass fishing contest was held during every month of 2013 except January and December (Figure 2). Most of the contest activity occurred between April and September, which is consistent with previous years. The highest level of contest activity was recorded in May (35), followed by June (33), August (32), April and September (28), and October (18). This pattern is slightly different from last year, but the general pattern of contest activity has remained very similar since the mid-1980s.

Walleye Contests

Walleye fishing contests in 2013 were held in the months of March (1), May (2), June (2), July (1), and September (1).

Total Catch

Bass Contests

The total number of bass (largemouth and smallmouth combined) weighed in at all contests held in Washington during 2013 was 16,137. This was almost a 13% percent increase from the number reported in 2012. Thirty-two contests did not separate the two species at the weigh-in and were only able to provide a combined total weight. Of the 9,807 bass that were weighed and counted by species, 84% (8,259) were smallmouth bass and 16% were largemouth bass (1,548).

The 2013 catch marks the 21th time in 34 years that the catch of smallmouth bass exceeded that of largemouth bass. Prior to 1988, contest relative abundance favored largemouth bass (Figure 3). The percentage of smallmouth bass relative to largemouth bass caught by contest anglers has increased dramatically since the mid-1980s, and has been dominant since 1997.

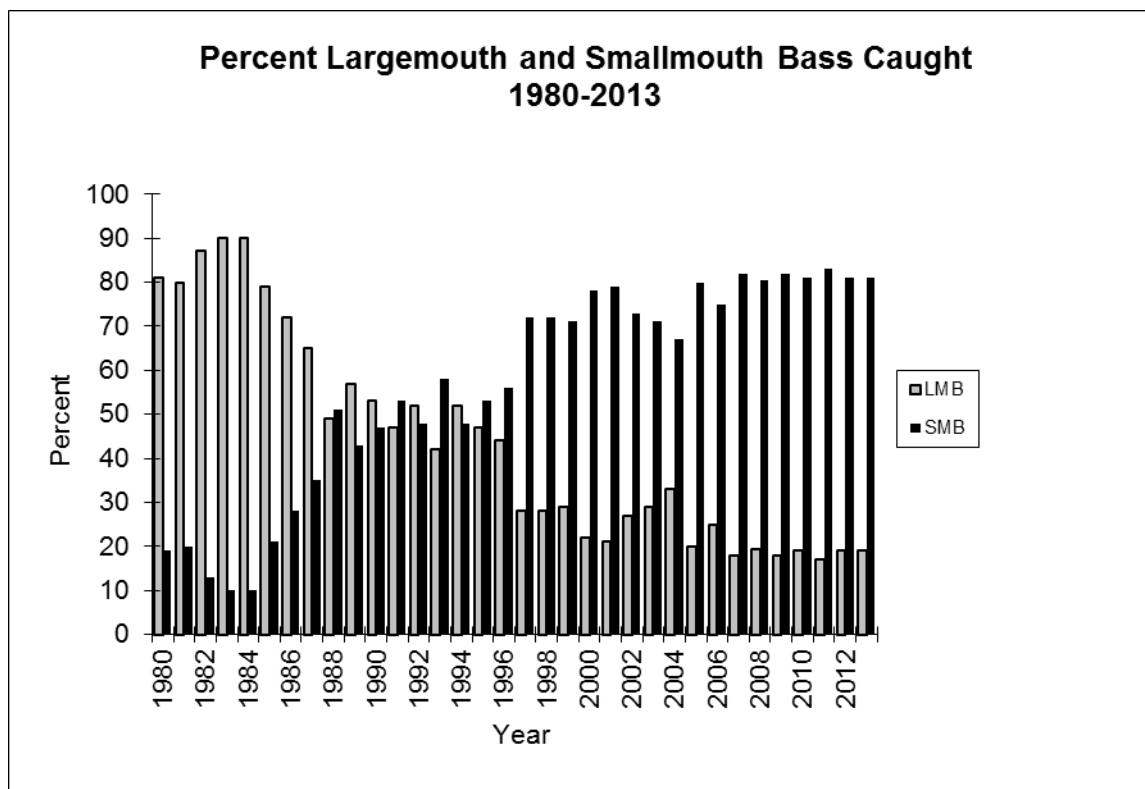

Figure 3. Historical catch of largemouth and smallmouth bass, by percent each year, from bass fishing contests held in Washington from 1980-2013.

Walleye Contests

A total of 2,035 3,392 walleye were caught in 2013, which was a 40% decrease from 2012 (Table 5).

Fish Size

Bass Contests

The average size for all bass weighed from fishing contests held in Washington State in 2013 was 2.15 pounds per fish (Table 6). This combined average of largemouth bass and smallmouth bass weight per fish, was slightly less than the 2012 average. The largest largemouth bass weighed during 2013 was 8.48 pounds and was caught in Mose Lake (Grant County). The largest smallmouth bass weighed during 2013 was 6.13 pounds and was caught in Lake Osoyoos, Okanogan County.

Walleye Contests

The average weight per fish for all walleye weighed from fishing contests held in Washington in 2013 was 1.74 pounds (Table 7). The average weight of walleye caught in Banks Lake was 2.94 pounds; Moses Lake was 1.84 pounds; Potholes Reservoir was 2.04 pounds; Lake Roosevelt was 1.26 pounds; and Lake Wallula was 7.07 pounds. The weight of the largest size walleye weighed in 2013 12.62 pounds and was caught in Lake Wallula (Benton County).

The average weight of walleye caught in Banks Lake in 2013 was almost three quarters of a pound than the 2.25 pounds per fish average in 2012. The average weight of walleye caught in Moses Lake was almost the same as the 1.81 pounds per fish average in 2012. The average weight of walleye caught in Potholes Reservoir was down from the 2.30 pounds-per-fish average in 2012. The average weight of walleye caught in Lake Roosevelt was the same 1.26 pounds-per-fish average as in 2012. The average weight of walleye caught in Lake Wallula was higher than the 4.90 pounds per fish average in 2012.

Catch Rate

Bass Contests

The overall combined catch rate for largemouth bass and smallmouth bass for bass fishing contests held in Washington State in 2013 was 0.23 fish per hour (Table 8), which was slightly higher than the rate in 2012.

Walleye Contests

The average catch rate (CPUE) for all walleye contests combined in 2013 was 0.20 fish per hour (Table 9). This was a little lower than what was reported in 2012. The CPUE for Banks Lake was 0.11 fish per hour, which was a large decrease from 2012. The CPUE for Moses Lake was 0.17 fish per hour, which was almost half the catch rate reported in 2012. The CPUE for Potholes Reservoir was 0.15 fish per hour, which was a small decrease in the catch rate in 2012. The CPUE for Lake Roosevelt was 0.36 fish per hour, which was a slight increase in the rate reported in 2012. The CPUE for Lake Wallula was 0.04 fish per hour, which was a very large decrease from the rate in 2012.

Percent Released

Bass Contests

A total of 98% of all bass weighed during contests held in 2013 were reported as being released alive and in good condition. This percentage was a percentage point lower as what was reported in 2012 and is a percentage point above the 33-year average. However, when comparing the survival rates for largemouth bass and smallmouth bass since 1996, there has not been a noticeable difference (Table 10).

Prize Value

Bass Contests

The total value of prizes offered for bass fishing contests held in Washington in 2013² was estimated at $388,696, or an average of $2089 per contest. Although final reports were received from 194 contests, these figures were based on 186 contests. The 2013 total amount was a little higher than 2012 ($387,978), and the average was slightly higher than the 2012 average of $2,074. Prize values ranged from $0.00 (24 contests) to a high of $82,000 (Appendix 1).

Walleye Contests

The total value of prizes offered for walleye contests held in Washington in 2013 was estimated at $126,785 or an average of $18,112 per contest. This total amount was lower than the amount awarded in 2012 ($137,933), but the average value per contest was more than in 2012 ($15,236). Prize values ranged from a low of $7,000 to a high of $38,000 (Appendix 3).

Discussion

The number of bass contests actually held has been consistent with what has been reported in the past. Since 2001 there have been over 170 contests per year, except for 2004. This number does fluctuate from year to year and is most likely due to the number of contests that are canceled rather than due to the number of permits issued. However, this year along with last year, the number of contests held topped the 200 mark. This could probably be attributed to some new clubs forming and some of the older clubs deciding to hold tournaments again. Final report submission compliance decreased from last year. Twelve reports were not submitted last year. The Aquatic Invasive Species (AIS) Decontamination Statement and AIS Decontamination Report (if necessary) compliance was not as good as the previous year. But it was still very good (98%). These two documents are considered part of the final report that is to be submitted after each contest.

The number of walleye contests peaked at 11 in 2008. Since then there has been a slight decline. This can probably be attributed to one-and-done contests and for some clubs/organizations reducing the number of contests they hold per year. The one-and-done contests are those contests that are being tried for the first time and for whatever reasons, were discontinued. The final report and Aquatic Invasive Species documentation compliance for the walleye contests was excellent (100%).
